Business Manager

"FRIENDSHIP improves happiness and abates misery by doubling our joy and dividing our grief." And so the friendships* formed at G. H. S. are among our most cherished possessions. None of us will remember all the dates we learned in history, the symbols we memorized in chemistry, the stories we read in English, or the verbs we struggled with in French, but all of us will remember the friends we made here. To promote this relationship and to keep its memory alive is the purpose of the 1943 Nautilus.

LIFE AT GREENVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

- I. First we have the big shots.
- II. Fall - School days begin.
 - A. The three classes are ready for work.
 1. Seniors are "Tops."
 2. Juniors are the in-betweens.
 3. Sophomores have much to learn.
 - B. With football begins the year of sports.
 1. A never failing good looking captain.
 2. The coaches put boys through strenuous work outs.
 3. Football produces heroes.
 4. Cheerleaders pep up pep.
- III. Winter - The task is half done.
 - A. Student Body officers assist the school.
 - B. There is much activity.
 1. Ideas are proposed and approved.
 2. What would G. H. S. be without a Nautilus?
 3. Here's another important publication.
 4. Clubs and committee activities are fun.
 - C. Basketball is fast and rough.
 - D. Smiles and frowns for the camera.
- IV. Spring - The curtain falls.
 - A. Where did they get their beauty?
 - B. Outstanding students are made famous.
 - C. Popularities get publicity free.
 - D. Some students go in for the finer arts.
 - E. Many other sports are offered.
 - F. Some girls' are athletic.
- V. Now come those who are friends indeed.

To show our love and appreciation for a real Friend—

Principal M. T. Anderson—

FRIENDS make life worthwhile. Friendships have always been cherished possessions, but today, when war is shaking the whole earth, true, loyal, understanding friends are needed to give us courage when disappointments and heartaches come. That the many friendships which have been formed among teachers and students of Greenville High School may be enduring is my sincere desire.

Fall

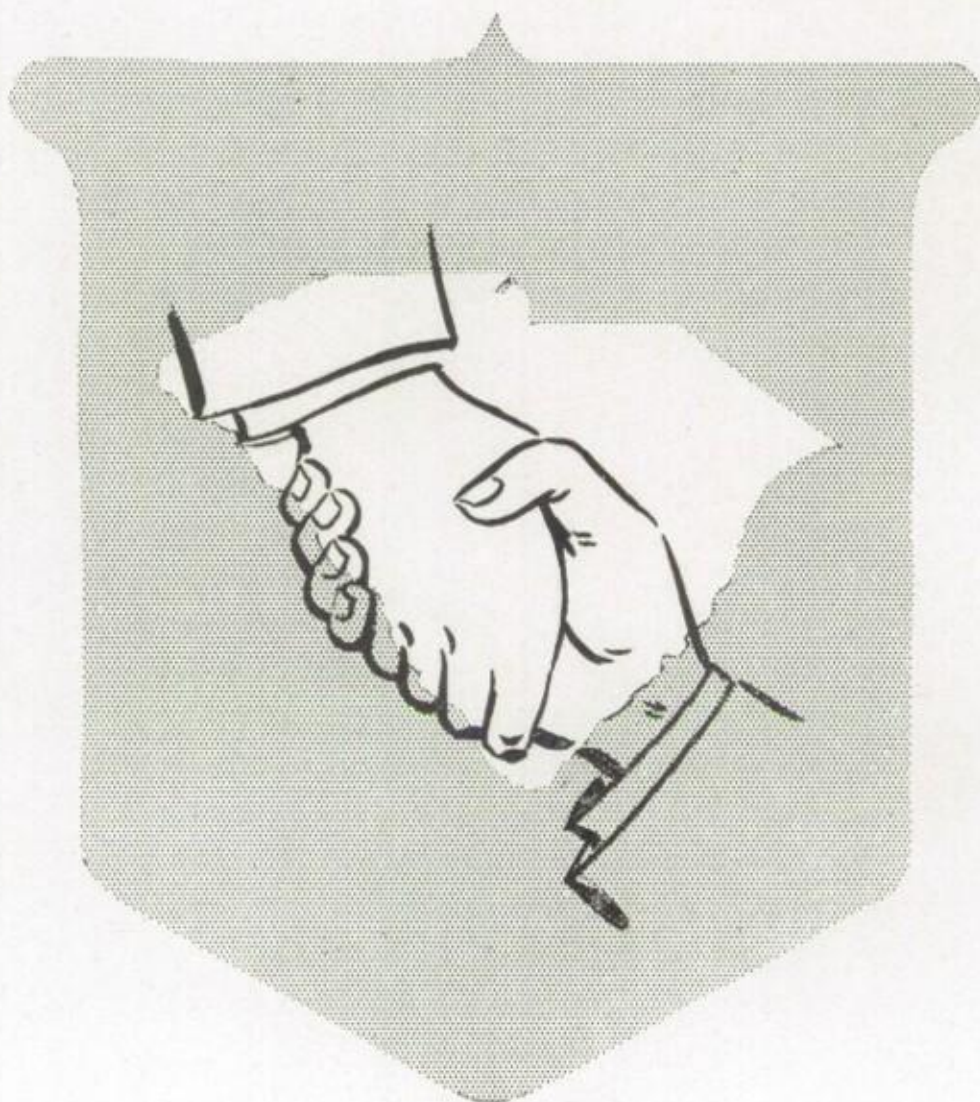

IN THE FALL—The doors of the “School on the Hill” swing open and the students pour in, rejoicing to see their schoolmates, and slowly but surely, getting settled for what is known as the same ole grind. Football starts . . . pep meetings . . . and finally the day of all days—the day that our Red Raiders defeat Parker’s Tornado. . . .After football, the school returns to normalcy . . . the leaves are turning, finally falling.

IN THE WINTER—The cold winds from the North usher in another season, finding students at Greenville High most active. The holidays are filled with merriment. . . . All want snow after those first few flakes. . . . Groans are heard over the first semester report cards . . . a new group is established in Forum . . . sophomores seem to be finding out what makes the school tick. In general, the winter is cold physically, but, mentally, it is warm and friendly for G. H. S.’ers.

IN THE SPRING—The campus takes on new life. . . . No school in the land is more active than ours. . . . Student body and class elections . . . senior class play . . . tournaments . . . honor exams . . . graduation!! But this busy season makes these final moments the most enjoyable of the whole year. Then comes the last . . . some thinking of their vacation plans; others looking through their “Nautilus” . . . and everybody wishing that the end were not quite so near.

SPARTANBURG GAME AS HOOKS SCORES

RESUME 1942 SEASON

Greenville High's football candidates worked long and laboriously under the vigilant eyes of Coaches Speer and Moore for a full month, before taking to the gridiron of Sirmine stadium on the night of September 25.

Some twenty-five boys had made the grade and received a uniform for the opening battle. The class B champions of the Palmetto state, the Saluda Indians, were the first eleven to test the strength of the 1942 Red Raiders. There were only three lettermen on this Electric club, but the hustling lad who was only a raw recruit a month previously had been conditioned into a seasoned player when the Red and Whites ran easily over the title holders to the tune of 45-7.

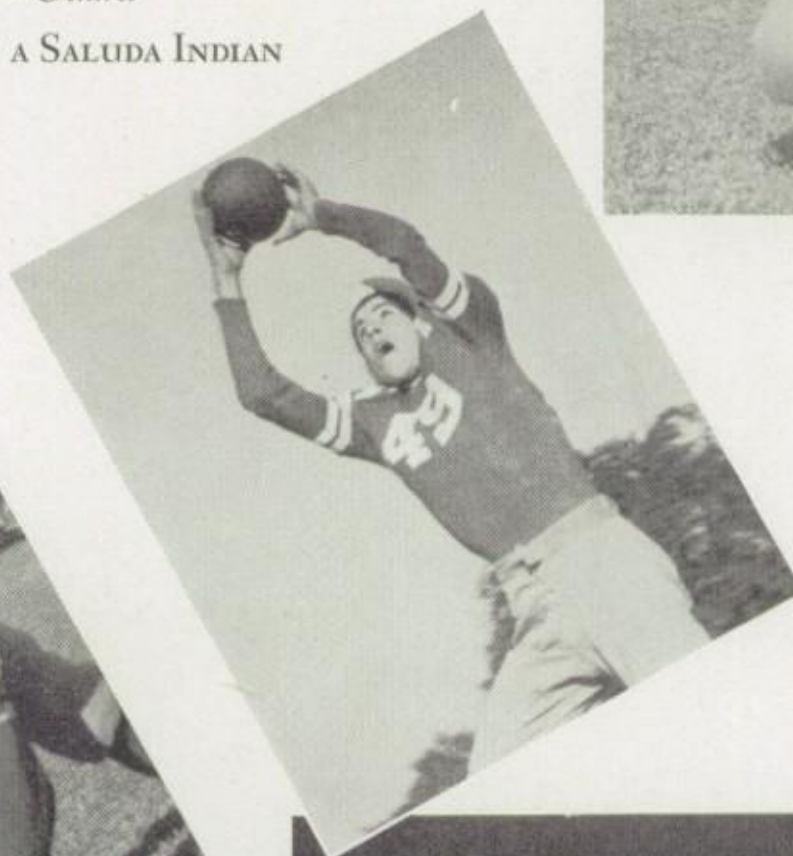

From the opening whistle of the first game, all the G. H. S. fans knew that for the '42 season Skippers Speer and Moore would have a team on the field that knew not the meaning of quit but one that would rush the opponent until he was forced to yield. This kept bearing the truth for in the second tilt the Dynamo breezed through its old rival Easley 40-0.

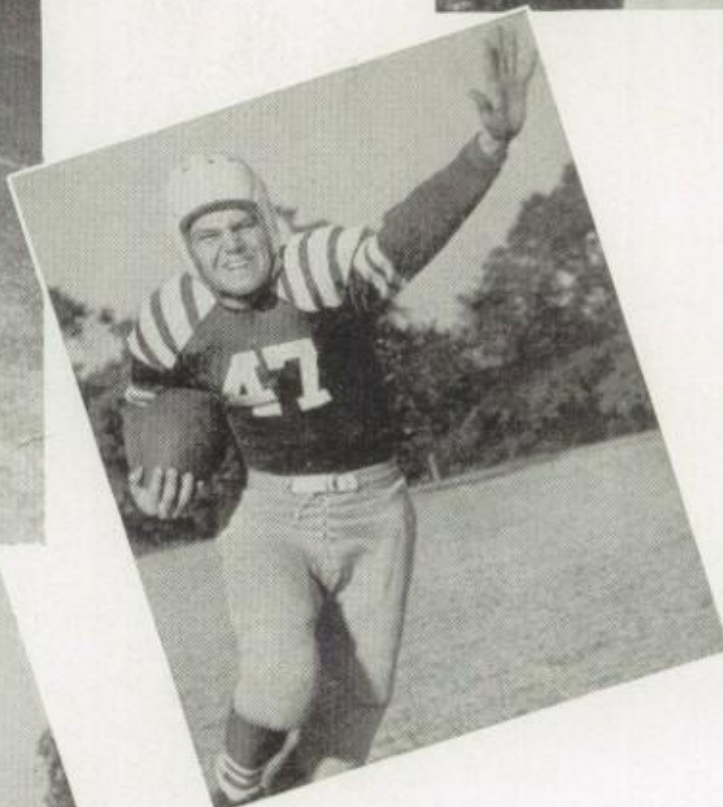

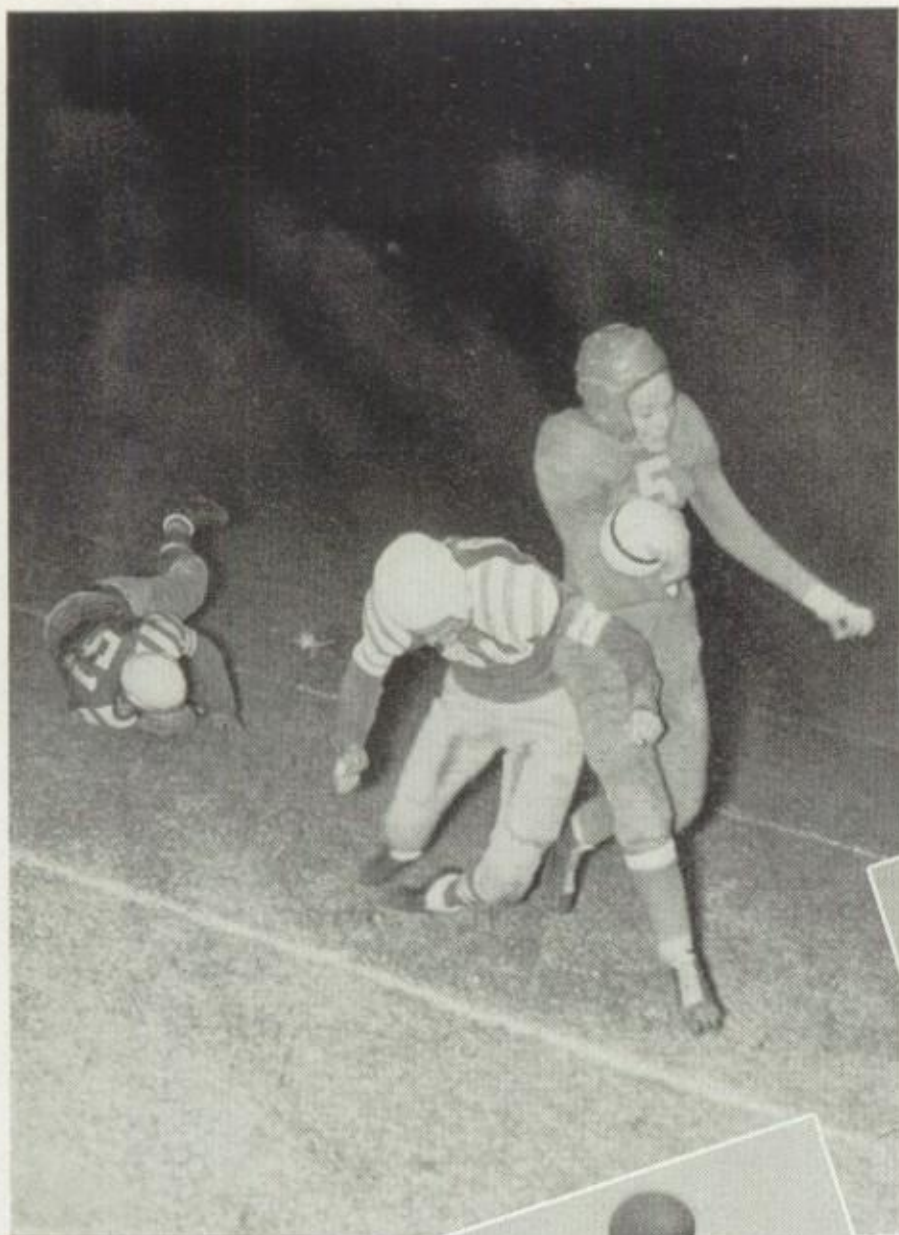

From these two tussles two things were definitely brought out: that the chief Raider might was in a deadly accurate aerial attack, with Leonard Riddle and Dick Hendley on the slinging line and Tommy Simpson and Eddis Freeman on the receiving end, and that they possessed one of the South's greatest line 'busters' in Steve Hooks.

These theories almost blew up, for in the next clash the Speermen renewed hostilities with an old foe, Anderson. The Yellow Jackets were having their best year, and were determined to repay the Greenvillians for their past lickings. This they did, for when the final gun sounded the Electrics were on the bad end of the count 13-7.

The Dynamo jumped back into the win column the following Friday by barely edging the always tough Charleston Bantams 6-3. The Raiders looked bad in this tilt but proved that they still had what it takes to gain a victory.

ACTION IN THE P. C. FROSH BATTLE

RESUME 1942 SEASON

After just getting by the Charleston fury, the Dynamo unleashed all its pent up wrath in its affray with game Seneca Bobcats. The Electrics loosed every squadman from the first stringers to the third stringers against the desperate Cats. With every man clicking, the Red and Whites easily won 53-0. Little Cally Gault was the big gun in this devastating onslaught.

When the giant Mountaineers from Asheville rolled into the "Home Town" for their annual appearance the fans at once knew that the Speermen would have to turn Supermen to defeat this bunch of Maroons. The Raiders pulled every trick out of the bag, but the bruising 200 pound Maroon line kept marching in and broke up many of the Electrics' plays. With a fellow named Charlie Justice and a massive forward wall to precede him, the invaders chalked up a ridiculous 55-0 count against the locals.

A newcomer, Glynn Academy from Brunswick, Georgia, was next on the Greenville line-up but due to the increasing gravity of war conditions this contest had to be canceled. To fill in the empty spot on the schedule a tilt with the Presbyterian College freshmen was arranged. Still stunned by the Asheville victory, the locals fell prey to the socking blows of the Baby Sox by going down 25-0.

After suffering two shocking setbacks the Greenvillians felt it was time to buck up and snap back. It took the night of Friday, the thirteenth, for the comeback. The Electrics traveled to the "Hub City" to engage the Spartanburg Crimson Tide. The Spartans boasted an unusually fine aggregation but the invading Raiders displayed spirit that outdid anything that happened all season. In the end, the Dynamo had a 26-0 win tucked under its belt. The G. H. S. line led by Ernie Trayham, Ralph Garner, and Cotton Richardson kept hitting harder and harder on each play, while "Cowboy" Simpson, "Sparky" Riddle, and Steppin' Steve Hooks clicked in all their runs until at the end the Spartans were in complete hopelessness.

AN EASLEY GRIDSTER JUST BEFORE HE WAS STOPPED

RESUME 1942 SEASON

Another newcomer was on the docket for the Raiders in the preliminary for the Parker battle; this team was Wadesboro, North Carolina. The Wades fell 25-6.

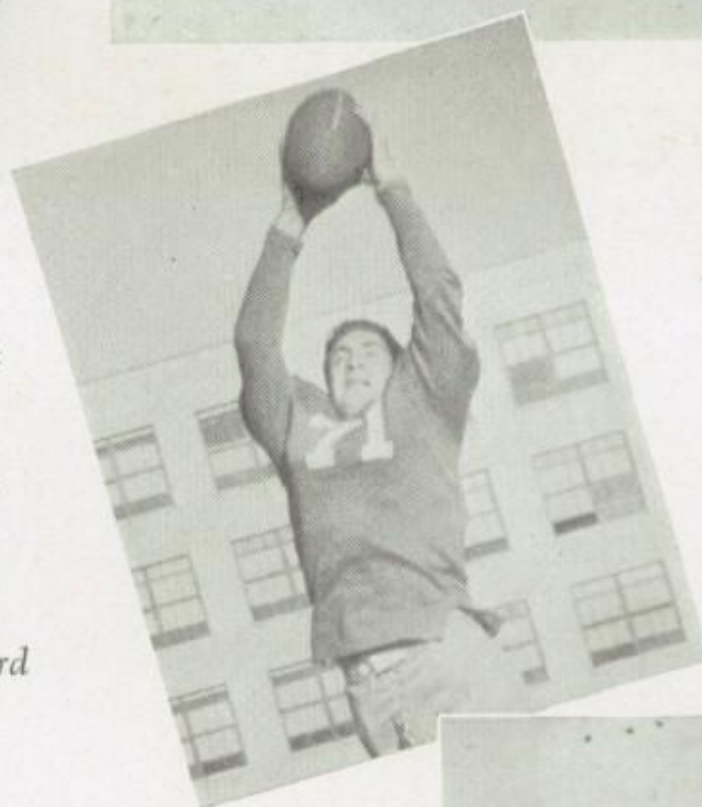

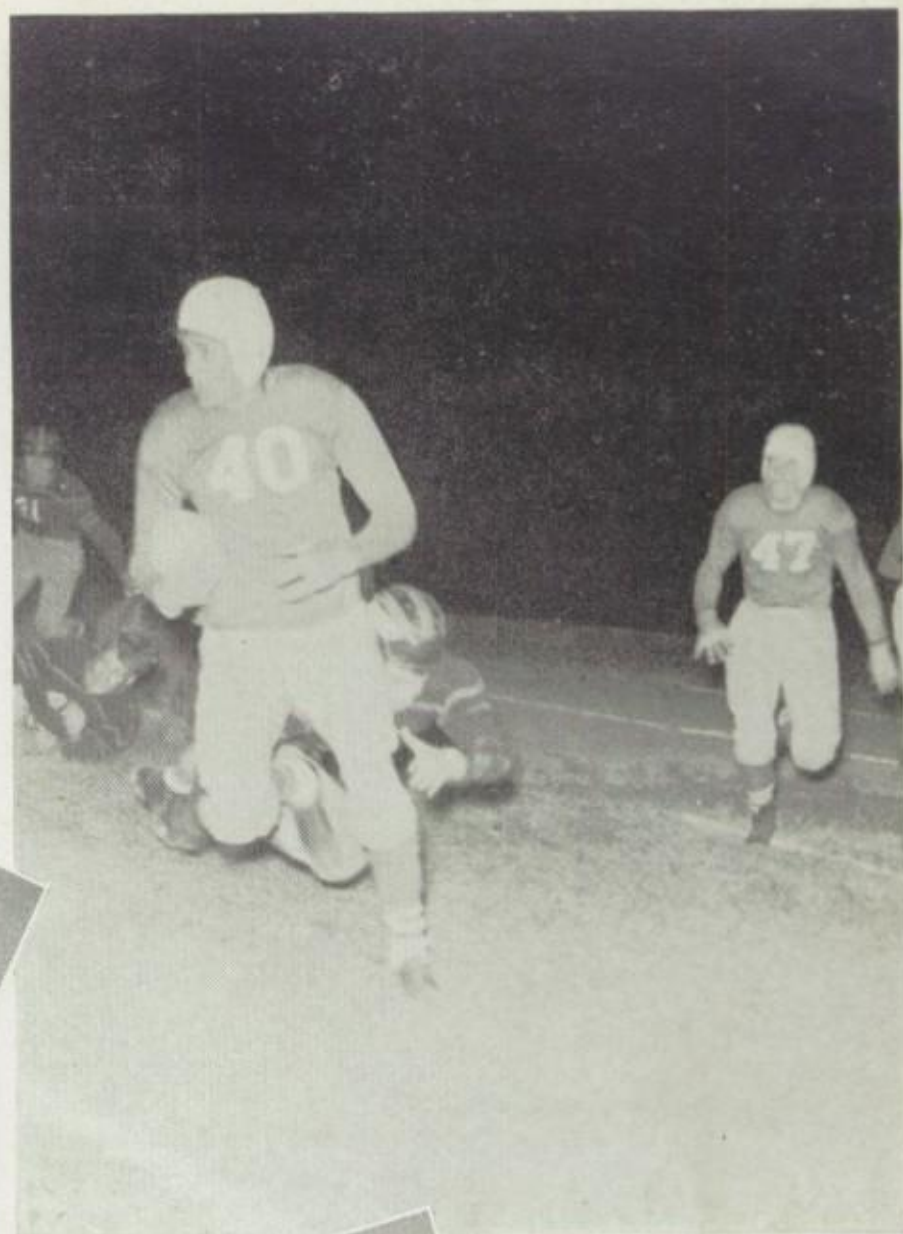

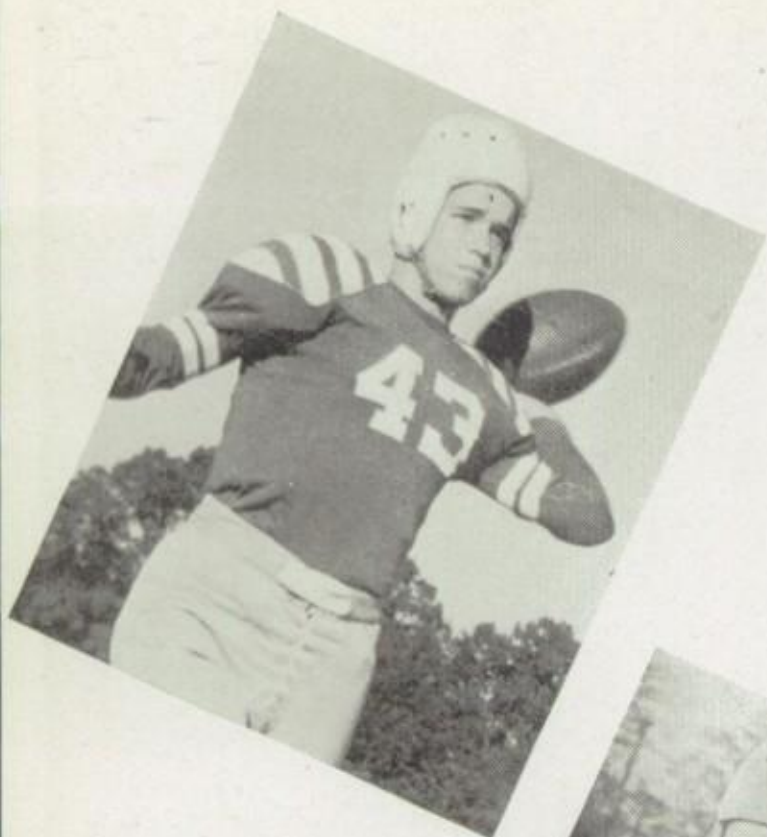

This left everything but the big game, the Thanksgiving classic with the Golden Tornado from Parker High. The Raiders had the best record with six wins and three losses but anything is liable when the city rivals lock horns on Turkey Day. And everything did happen and fast. First the Greenvillians took the lead and the Purple and Gold blew back and jumped to the lead. The Parkerites barely held this 18-12 margin until late in the final stanza when a pass from Hendley to Simpson and a conversion by Charles Johnson skyrocketed the Red and Whites ahead. While the Parker machine collapsed the Dynamo gained momentum by reeling off another touchdown to make the final score read Greenville 25-Parker 18. Thus for the thirteenth occasion the Red Electrics had beaten the Tornado.

RESUME 1943 BASKETBALL SEASON

(Pictures on Pages 120-121)

In the first dawning days of this year, with the war, priorities, rationing, and the like, casting a dark cloud on the future for the '43 basketball season, Athletic Director Speer and Cage Skipper "Slick" Moore faced the grimmest task they had ever encountered in their long coaching careers.

Using the watchful waiting policy, nevertheless Mentor Moore issued the call for the annual crop of basketball material. From this bunch of some seventeen lads the diminutive Moore worked hard and finally perfected a machine that was setting a terrific pace at the close of the campaign.

A FUMBLE IN THE PARKER CLASSIC

RESUME 1943 BASKETBALL SEASON

Starting off with small schools who fell easily to the crushing blows of the Dynamo, the 1943 Moore Marvels really opened up at the midway mark to down Spartanburg twice and Parker once to gain the prestige that would have definitely given them a bid to the Duke-Durham tournament, had the tourney been held this year.

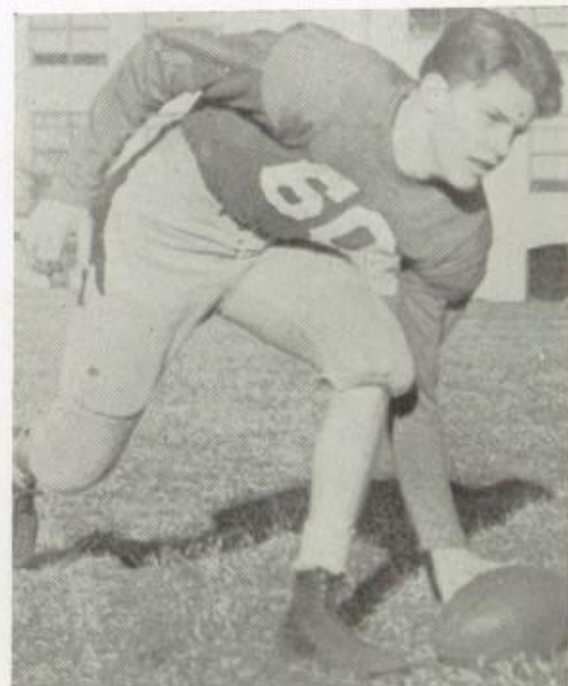

By putting on a tremendous drive after their first stinging defeat by Parker, Greenville High's Red Raiders came back, not to lose a game and cinch their third straight Palmetto state championship when the Red and White banner waved victorious over the rabble heap of the once great Parker Tornado cage machine the night of March 5.

Leonard "Sparky" Riddle was the real pillar of the great '43 combine. Sending well over a hundred points through the mesh, "Sparky" left a record for fire and dash that well lives up to the famous Riddle name.

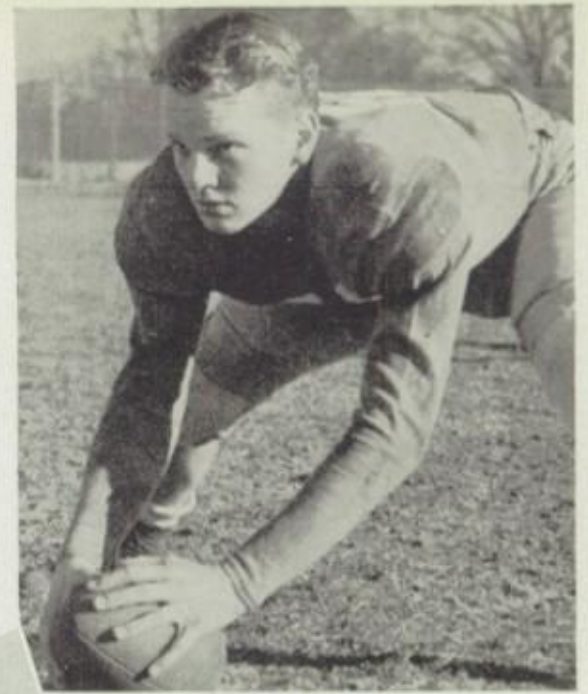

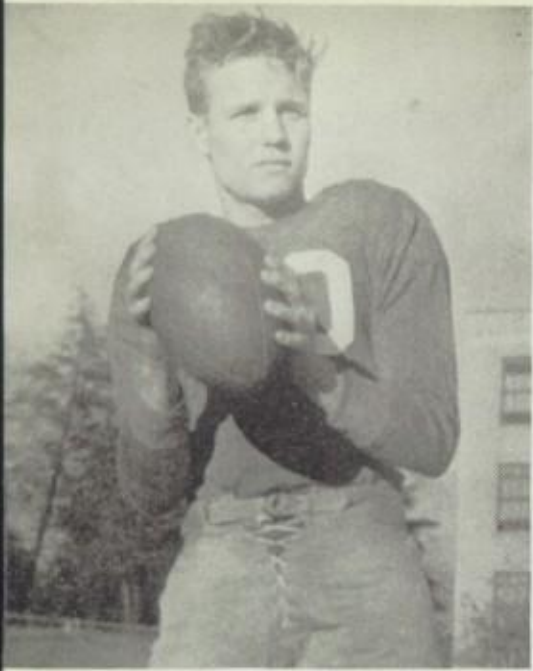

Backed by the finest squad in the South mainly J. D. Ashmore, Eddis "Fireball" Freeman, and newcomer Jack Pruitt, Coach Moore possessed a bunch of cagesters that wouldn't stop until the final whistle.

All in all, the Raiders really had a great season. Although their schedule was full of big name quintets, the Red and Whites waded through a list of teams that was hard to stop by anyone's five, with a record of 14 triumphs and three losses for a .824 percentage figure.

The 1943 campaign will go down in the books as a brilliant one.

DIAMOND LORE and DIAMOND LURE and
DIAMOND HERE and NOW

1856-1943

The sometimes fabled Diamonds of antiquity carried no greater charm of fascination than the Diamonds we are showing now. Come in and see them when you will. Let our 84 years of Diamond handling be yours to command as we tell you the things about Diamonds that will allow you to draw hairlines of distinction in grading your application. Then let our enviable Diamond buying privileges be put to work for you to SAVE YOU MONEY in the Diamond purchases you from time to time make. We are not talking at random when we advise you that this is a good time, especially at the favoring prices we are now able to offer—to buy DIAMONDS.

YOU MUST BUY VALUE IN DIAMONDS IF WE MAKE THE SALE.

Our Complete Jewelry Manufacturing Facilities—right on the premises—are yours to make use of no matter on how quick call—for remounting, for modernizing of jewelry pieces of cuttings and the like—
